Sir/Madam, The Centre for Microdata from the Economics Department at the Universidad de Chile and the Oxford Poverty and Human Development Initiative (OPHI) from the University of Oxford, United Kingdom, are carrying out the Survey on Other Dimensions of Household Quality of Life. The purpose of this study is to obtain statistical information about the Chilean population, which will be used for academic research in the area of poverty, employment, security and perceptions of well-being.

You have been selected through a scientific procedure of random sampling to participate in this study, which is being conducted by the Centre for Microdata from the Economics Department at the Universidad de Chile. We would be grateful if you could participate in this study, but if you choose not to participate in any aspect of it, we will respect your decision.

With your consent, I (the interviewer) will ask several questions about your socio-economic situation and you and your family’s quality of life. I have to clarify that there are no correct or incorrect answers to these questions. Our interest is simply to register what you think about the survey’s different topics. Please ask me to clarify if you do not understand any question. If there is any question that you do not wish to reply, please let me know, so we may continue with the following question. Everything you tell us will be strictly confidential.

The interview will last less than an hour. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary and you may leave at any time without any consequence. If you have any questions regarding this study, you may contact the people in charge of it at the following telephone number: 9763562.

Guarantee of confidentiality: The Department of Economics at the Universidad de Chile follows the guidelines established in Organic Law No. 17,374 of the National Statistics Institute, which, in the articles mentioned, determines the following: Article 29: “The National Statistics Institute, Fiscal and Semi-Fiscal Bodies, and State Enterprises, and each of their respective officials may not disseminate the facts referred to the specific people or entities whom they have gotten to know whilst carrying out their activities. Strict compliance with this reserve is what constitutes the “STATISTICAL SECRET”. Its violation by any person subject to this obligation constitutes a crime penalised under article 247 of the Penal Code.
